Uncle Charley Walks In

Uncle Charley Bays, of Knox county, will be one of the unique characters which will adorn one of the acts of the coming Kentucky Legislature. As the boys put it, he walked in over both of his opponents, Parker and Price. Uncle Charley is 70 years old, wears jeans pants and brogan shoes and in the summer time no socks. He made the campaign all over the District about. It is reported that Uncle Charley never was over 50 miles away from his home on Brush Creek in Knox county and that he hardly ever goes to Barbourville, only when is summoned as a juror. They say he is well-read and talks reasonably well on the issues of the day.

We fear Uncle Charley has let his day of usefulness slip by and that the Republicans of that district have made a great mistake in sending him to the Legislature. The Mountain people have had enough of him and no doubt Uncle Charley's mode of dressing and living will be considered a fair sample of the way people live in the mountains by a great many of the people who come in contact with him in the State Legislature, and we fear that his efforts, though they may be good ones, will be considered jokes.

The above appeared in the "Three States" in its issue of the 14th, and from the tenor of it the Editor is not very well acquainted with the Gentleman from Brush Creek.

Some of the things are true that the Three States says about Uncle Charley, the man from Brush Creek. Mr. Bays is not the age quoted above, he is 67 years old and is far from wearing the jeans breeches as accused, nor does he wear brogan shoes and we find that the constitution of the United States grants to every man the privilege to wear socks or to go barefooted, and if Uncle Charley wants to go without socks, as did Jerry Simpson, he ought to be allowed to do so without someones hounding up and objecting to it.

Charles H. Bays, is one of Old Virginia's best blood, he is a life long Republican, has never cast a vote with the Democratic or any other party, he is a minister of the Gospel, having cast his lot with the Christian church many years ago, and since said time he has held up before a dying world the Crucified Christ.

When the Advocate man saw Mr. Bays and showed him the article in the "Three States" he said that he had nothing to say, except that he believed that this was a day of reformation, and that some things needed it badly, and that he would do all in his power to reform some things that need it. The Republicans of Knox and Whitley County are sure that they have made no mistake in the man of their choice, and they are confident that when Charles Bays goes to the Legislative Halls of Kentucky that he will go there without any kind of a halter around his neck, and that he has enough of this world goes already that there will be no use of talking to Uncle Charley about showing him any size of the green goods to induce him to vote for any kind of a measure that is not right. He is one of Kentucky's best citizens, a man of refinement, a man that is worth his weight in gold, a man that money will not buy, a man that is not in his dotage he is clean inside and outside, we are willing to risk ourselves in his hands, it would have been better if all the representatives of the State for the past fifty years would have been such men as Charley Bays, times would have been better in old Kentucky and she would today been out of debt. When it comes to the joke end of the business, leave it to Uncle Charley and he will tell the joke.

Out of Politics

The Editor of the Advocate is out of Politics, and is now or soon will be a private citizen, but will not agree to work in the rear ranks, he proposes to stay right in the fight for his friends, and will endeavor to look after the interest of his friends, either on the stump or in the field, and to let the world know although he is defeated, that no man or set of men can drive him from the party that he loves. The only thing that he asks is that all who are indebted to him come up and pay their bills, so that he can drive the raving, howling hungry wolf from the door, and get his feet on the solid foundation, so that he will not be turned out upon the cold charities of the world without a place to lay his head.

The Editor of this paper has gone for a long time with out collecting his accounts, but now it is necessary that all who are indebted to the him, come on down with the brazen coin, and help him out, so that he can help to make Knox County what it ought to be, and help make the Advocate the leading newspaper of the State.

Another Kentucky Boy Honored

We note with much pleasure that another Mountain boy from the Old State of Kentucky, has been honored by his associates.

On August 13th, Hon. John L. Powers, formerly of this city, was elected President of the Progress Club, which consists of about 65 teachers of Western Pennsylvania, and of the city of Pittsburgh. These are wide awake teachers of the State of Pennsylvania, and we are told that on June the 30th, he entered the State examination and made the highest grade of any in the State. He has been for several years Principal of the Kensington Department of the Kensington High School, and was recently elected to that position by the unanimous vote of Board of Education.

We feel proud that our boys from Barbourville are always forging to the front, no matter what undertaking or in what State or community they reside, you can always bet on a Mountain man as a winner, especially if he is from Barbourville.

John, here is congratulations to you, keep your face to the front, and perchance you will yet reach the top, you can if take the notion.

Parker Thanks Voters

W. F. Parker has returned home with a smile on his face, and says he has fully recovered from his defeat and wishes to thank the voters of Knox and Whitley for all interest shown him on August 7th.

He does not know just how many precincts he carried but the records show not a sufficient amount to claim the nomination.

Mr. Parker says: "I am also informed that 'The Right Man' was defeated. Since August 7th the people do not hesitate in saying that Uncle Charley is 'The Right Man'."

I am always willing to submit my claims to the people and the people have made their choice and I am glad to say I will support their choice.

I have no ill will at any man that opposed me with his vote or either of my opponents. If I have a real enemy anywhere I do not know it. (A defeat is often times a victory) The election is over and I have no stone to cast at any man's glass house.

I am a true Republican and at the service of the Party at any hour.

Again I thank my many friends for their loyal support and influence and have very best wishes for the success of the party."

DIVINE BELIEVED COLLAPSE CERTAIN

Louisville Man However Gains Weight After Taking Tanlac

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 19—C. D. Divine, one of the best and most favorably known men in Louisville, who is bookkeeper for the Falls City Clothing Company, recently had these words to say about Tanlac, the premier preparation:

"It was my misfortune to be afflicted with an aggravated case of stomach trouble and a highly nervous condition for several years. Gas would accumulate in my stomach, causing me great pain. These attacks followed one another in such rapid succession that my entire system became weakened and made me susceptible to coughs and colds.

At one time I feared I was in danger of a complete nervous breakdown. In fact, I was told that the breakdown was inevitable. I had a tired, wornout feeling, my sleep was fitful, I was lacking in energy, and had no appetite. I was depressed in spirits and devoid of ambition.

"I suffered for two years, the stomach trouble refusing to yield to the treatment of the best physicians in Louisville. My nerves were shattered. I felt as though my case was hopeless.

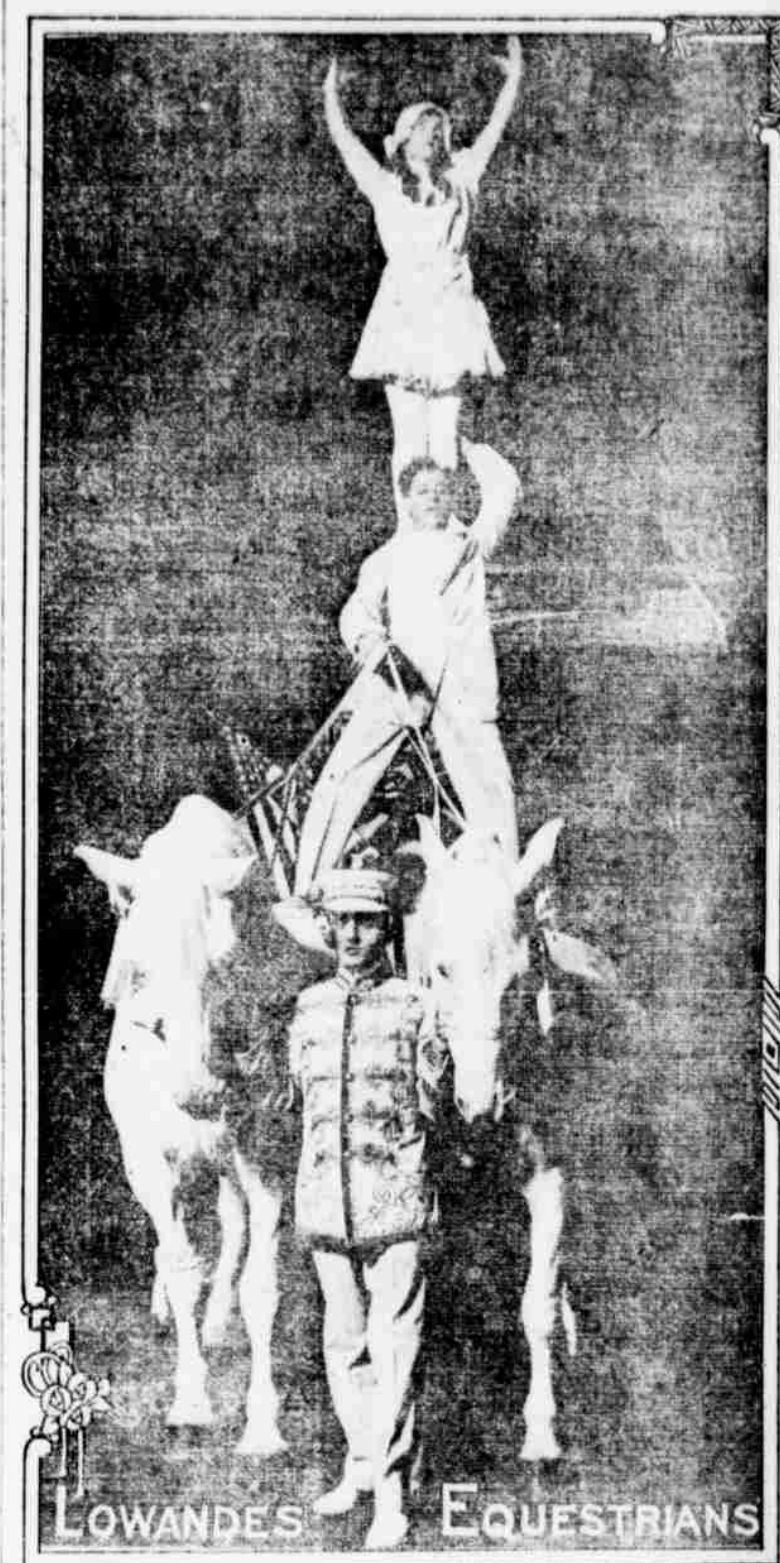

"Since using Tanlac, I feel like a different man. I have gained in weight, I sleep better, my appetite has returned, and I am filled with vigor and ambition. The tired feeling has vanished completely."

Tanlac, the premier preparation, is sold in Barbourville by Herndon Drug Co. adv.

Hon. J. D. Tuggle was appointed Commonwealth's Attorney, protem, for the Special term, and let us say here and now that he is right on the job. Jesus has been there before and it is a pity that he is not on the job all the time for he is a terror to law breakers, and would make things hum if he had the job all to himself.

SENSATIONAL AND STUPENDOUS HIPPODROME SHOW

Greatest Acts of Vaudeville and Circus Booked For the Kentucky State Fair, Sept. 13-18

FRAMED by the giant oval and lofty dome of the $100,000 Pavilion, there will be offered each evening, beginning at 7:30, at the Kentucky State Fair an aggregation of feature acts which are declared to constitute one of the greatest entertainments of the kind ever offered at a State Fair.

Secretary Dent has bent every energy toward securing turns which will provide a vivid contrast and a decided sensation, and the show as a whole will live up to the billing of Hippodrome.

Supreme among the human attractions listed stands Oscar Lowand's equestrian act, in which Lowand and his beautiful girl partner perform amazing bareback stunts and tumbler feats. The act is splendidly staged and costumed and made from its marvels of horsemanship and acrobatic art is as picturesque and pleasing to the eye as sculptured groups from a master hand.

Life, motion, color and thrill will characterize the turn of the Hassan Ben Ali Troupe of Arabian dancers, sword twirlers, leapers and tumblers.

The Coven Troupe are serial artists who are said to perform more dare-devil feats to the minute than any competitors in the show world. They do all the sensational stunts flying and trapeze balancing ever attempted and, it is claimed, add hair raising accomplishments individual to themselves alone.

The Delmonde Company is a musical aggregation of ten which boasts five classical beauties who are said to be stunning in looks and gowning. Their offering is likewise said to be a distinct novelty and one of the most delightful ever appearing in vaudeville.

The Piccolini Acrobats are absolute muscular marvels, and the lifting, balancing, carrying and wrestling offered by them are sensational in the extreme. In entertaining contrast to these artists will be an aggregation of acrobatic comedians who combine uproariously funny clowning with some really skillful and interesting acrobatic work.

Thirty-five richly and kaleidoscopically arrayed musicians designated as the Royal Hussar Band and an equally large number of harmony dispensers known as the Scotch Highlander Players will be an important and enjoyable feature of the Hippodrome and night horse show exhibitions.

Pheasant, Duck, Goose and Deer New Feature For Kentucky State Fair

A WONDERFUL, instructive and interesting exhibition planned as a new feature for the Kentucky State Fair will be the showing of every variety of pheasant, deer, wild duck and goose native to this country. The State Fair management has appropriated spacious grounds for the pens and cages in which the nucleus of a wonderful zoo is to be introduced during the celebration of Sept. 13-18, and, in fact, the specimens of pheasant already secured by the Fair management under the auspices and direction of the State Fish and Game Commission place Kentucky's collection second only to the largest in the world, which is a part of the zoo at Brooklyn, N. Y.

The State Fish and Game Commission is making every effort to replenish the almost entirely depleted stock of pheasants in Kentucky and has recently imported from England large flocks of breeders, which have been placed throughout the state. Special precautions have been taken for the protection of the birds, and farmers on whose land the pheasants have been placed have been feeding them regularly and report that they have become quite tame. Quail will also be included in the importation of birds, and 5,000 will be brought into the state from Mexico. This variety of quail is native to Kentucky, but Mexico is the only place where the birds can be secured for restocking.

Two thousand five hundred pairs of English ring neck pheasants were liberated in Kentucky recently, and a large number of Prince of Wales pheasants were placed in the lowlands of the Purchase, to which section they are especially adapted. Reeves' pheasants have been sent in large quantities to the mountains and varicolored pheasants to the interior sections of the state.

All of these and every other existing variety of pheasant will be exhibited in the State Fair collection, as will the Japanese, English fallow and native American deer.

Special cut rate excursions will be run into Louisville over all lines and from all parts of the state during Kentucky State Fair week, Sept. 13-18.

Coupon books of six day tickets at $2 and six night tickets at $1 for the Kentucky State Fair, Sept. 13-18, will be on sale Aug. 15 until Sept. 11.
